The following is a key to the attached chart of the CPN (Communist Party Netherlands):

The Party Congress which is convoked at least once every two years is nominally the highest authority of the CPN and is responsible for:

1. The Central Committee (Partij Bestuur) sometimes translated as Party Executive. This committee, chosen at and by the Party Congress is the actual governing body of the CPN.
2. The Executive Committee. Elected by the Political Bureau and responsible for every-day activities and operations of the CPN.
3. Party Bureau or Secretariat. All matters affecting the Central Committee and the Executive Committee are first referred to the Party Secretariat which assumes much of the routine work.
4. Political Bureau. Receives international instructions and adapts them for internal use.
5. Organizational Bureau. May be considered a section of the Political Bureau which regulates organizational activities of the Party.
6. Scientific Bureau. Consists of commissions which study subjects assigned by the Central Committee.
7. Propaganda Bureau
